

Bridging the Gap

The purpose of the Bridging the Gap series is to allow UC Berkeley thought leadership, faculty, and staff to excel together by providing a forum to discuss emerging and hot button issues, foster an open exchange, and inform decision-makers.

Understanding Change in the Federal Landscape

Thursday, April 20, 2017

150 University Hall

10:00-11:30 am

As with any presidential administration change, there are challenges and opportunities for UC Berkeley that could affect funding, compliance, and reputation of the campus. A few notable areas are research, immigration, student financial aid, sexual violence and assault, free speech and regulatory reform. Join us to discuss the potential implications for campus.

Session Lead Notes

Gina Banks Daly joined UC Berkeley as the Director of Federal Relations in early 2015. Previously, she was the Director of Federal Government Relations for UC Davis for several years. She currently also serves in a leadership capacity for Association of American Universities (AAU) and Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU). Prior to joining the UC family, she was Director of Field Services for United States Senator Dianne Feinstein. She represented the Senator in 28 Northern California counties, including advising the Senator on local, regional and statewide issues. She began her political career in Washington, DC working on Capitol Hill for Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi and Senator Feinstein. She received her Masters in Public Policy from UC Berkeley's Goldman School of Public Policy and graduated cum laude with Honors in Government from Claremont McKenna College.

Space for our sessions is limited so please register using the UC Learning Center available in the "Self Service" section of the blu portal.
